This Profile, North Carolina Counties, has been prepared by the State Data Center, Management and Information Services Section. It presents updated information for the data series included in the sixth edition of Profile, North Carolina Counties as well as some additional data series.

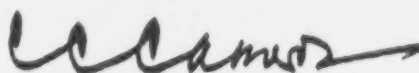

Information contained in this document was contributed by the governmental agencies generating the primary source of data. County narratives are from The North Carolina Gazetteer by Williams S. Powell, copyright 1968, The University of North Carolina Press. The cooperation of these contributors is gratefully acknowledged.

Comments and suggestions concerning the Profile should be directed to Earlean Strickland, Office of State Budget and Management, (919/733-7061).

Preface

The 1986 edition of the Profile, North Carolina Counties is the seventh in a series published by the Office of State Budget and Management. The Profile assembles in one document many major demographic, economic, and social indicators at the county level which are available on an annual or other periodic basis. Data categories included in this edition cover population, area, per capita income, voter registration, labor force, transfer payments, tax levies, employment, health indicators, new and expanded industry, agriculture, public assistance, corrections, highway mileage, motor vehicles, education enrollment, retail sales and sales and use tax. These indicators should assist researchers at all levels of government and the private sector in analyzing trend information on the county, planning-region, metropolitan and non-metropolitan basis, as well as the statewide level. It is our hope that the compilation of this information in one source document will minimize the resources required to analyze state and sub-state conditions and trends.

Introduction

This edition of Profile, North Carolina Counties has five major divisions: (1) rankings, (2) state and county profiles, (3) multi-county planning regions profiles, (4) metropolitan and non-metropolitan profiles, and (5) an appendix.

The rankings section includes county, region, and metropolitan rankings of several key indicators - population density, migration rate, per capita income, rate of unemployment, active primary care physicians per 10,000 population, 5-year infant death rate per 1,000 live births, motor vehicle accidents per 1,000 population, per capita property tax, average weekly payroll per employee, and per capita transfer payments. Users should be cautious when drawing conclusions concerning counties with small populations which may be subject to wide fluctuations in rates based on minor changes in conditions.

For many data series the state value either includes categories not represented in the counties or is an estimate derived by methodology that does not require the state figure to be the same as the sum of counties. Because of this and for ease in calculation of county values as a percent of state total, a "sum of counties" profile has been included in the state and county profiles section.

The need for a uniform system of multi-county regions for planning and development activities led in 1969 to the creation of planning regions that cover the entire state. These are named A - R and were established under consideration of the following factors: (1) the economic and social interrelationships between urban centers and the surrounding areas, (2) existing cooperative programs among counties and municipalities, (3) at least three counties in each region, (4) a population base of at least 100,000 people in each region, and (5) the existence of mountain ranges or rivers that might separate one region from another. Profiles are presented for each planning region.

Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSA's) are designated by the U. S. Office of Management and Budget. They are defined as generally comparable areas around the nation for studying metropolitan characteristics. Profiles have been listed in this publication for each of the state's nine Metropolitan Statistical Areas as well as for the total metropolitan and total non-metropolitan areas. MSA's are more specifically defined at the beginning of the metropolitan and non-metropolitan section.

Although information for most data series is available only through 1984, 1985 updates have become available for others. These are presented in the Appendix. The updated series include voter registration, property tax levies, highway mileage, auto and truck registration, AFDC recipients, some corrections data, retail sales, and sales and use tax.

Data Sources and Descriptions

AGRICULTURE

Harvested Cropland

Cropland for the calendar year consists of land used for all row crops, close-grown field crops, rotation hay and pasture, hayland, conservation use only (excluding forest land), orchards, vineyards, and bush fruit. Data for the years beginning with 1978 are based on a sample survey conducted by the Division of Cropland Livestock Reporting Service, while prior data were obtained from a state annual farm census. The sample survey does not report the amount of idle cropland in a county, but the census does include these figures. The state figure represents the sum of counties, but state totals in years prior to 1977 do not include any data for the counties in which a census was not conducted.

Farm Income

Farm income amounts for the calendar year are estimated income from tobacco, cotton, peanuts, corn, grain, potatoes, fruits and vegetables, greenhouse and nursery items, hay and other field crops, livestock products, farm forests and government payments. Although the federal government frequently revises state level estimates of farm income, the county series is revised only for the year prior to the most recent release. The state series presented in this publication is that agreeing with the county totals. Users may contact the North Carolina Department of Agriculture for more recently revised state figures.

BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY

Payrolls

First quarter total payroll consists of payroll paid to persons employed at any time during the January to March quarter. Payroll includes all forms of compensation which are subject to income tax withholding, such as salaries, wages, commissions, bonuses, vacation allowances, sick leave pay, and the value of payments in kind (such as free meals and lodgings) paid to all employees. Employees' tips and gratuities reported to employees are included. For corporations, annual payroll includes amounts paid to officers and executives which are subject to income tax withholding; for unincorporated businesses, it does not include profit or other compensation of proprietors or partners. Payroll is reported before deductions for social security, income tax, insurance, union dues, etc. Government payrolls are excluded. Some county data are omitted due to disclosure problems. The user is advised to check with the NC Employment Security Commission publication, North Carolina Insured Employment and Wage Payments, for a similar data series collected in a different manner. The resulting figures differ significantly from this series for some counties. The ESC series is to be included in future editions of the Profile.

Employees

Mid-March pay period employment is the count of employees during the pay period that includes March 12 as reported on Treasury Form 941, Schedule A, or as corrected by estimates. Each legal entity (corporation, partnership, single proprietorship, etc.) having paid employees is required to file a separate Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return, Treasury Form 941. Establishments are assigned county classifications on the basis of the physical location of the establishments. Employees without a fixed location within a state or of unknown county locations are included in the state total, thus making it differ from the sum of counties. An "establishment" is a single physical location where business is conducted or where services or industrial operations are performed. Government employees, self-employed persons, farm workers, and domestic service workers are excluded. Some county data are omitted due to disclosure problems. The user is advised to check with the NC Employment Security Commission publication, North Carolina Insured Employment and Wage Payments, for a similar data series collected in a different manner. The resulting figures differ significantly from this series for some counties. The ESC series is to be included in future editions of the Profile. In the Rankings section, the average per capita weekly salary for the first quarter 1983 for employees of reporting establishments is ranked from high to low.

CRIME AND CORRECTIONS

Prison Admissions

These figures reflect the number of new admissions and probation revocations in the state prison system by county of conviction during the calendar year. The state total includes those persons whose county of conviction is not reported. As of 1979, admissions include a category called "unsentenced".

Parole Population

These figures reflect the parole population by county of supervision as of December 31. This count also includes those individuals who have both a probation and a parole sentence, referred to as "duals". Starting with 1984 data, parole population includes only those individuals who are "actively supervised", and these data are derived from a source different from that for the total parole population. With 1984, figures for parole population began to include those individuals on conditional release. Revisions have been made to the historical Profile data to combine conditional release into the parole population for years prior to 1984. The statewide total includes the number of parolees whose county of supervision is not reported and those who absconded; it does not reflect the number of parolees being supervised out of state.

Probation Population

These figures represent end-of-year population by county of supervision. The total excludes "duals", those individuals who have both a probation and a parole sentence. Beginning with 1979, the statewide total includes individuals for which no county was reported. It excludes those being supervised out of state.

Youth Services Schools Admissions

The number of admissions in the calendar year, by county from which the referrals were made, to the five state-supported youth services schools are indicated by these figures. Children under the age of 16 years may be admitted to the schools for offenses ranging from failing to attend school to capital crimes. Although a court order is required for commitment of a child, the child is not a convicted criminal. At the age of 18, youths are no longer eligible for detention in the youth services schools.

EDUCATION

Public School

Two data series are presented for public schools - the final enrollment for the school year and the first month average daily membership. The enrollment series has been presented in earlier editions of the Profile; the ADM series is consistent with a fall count corresponding to the fall enrollment for higher education and community colleges. The enrollment figures represent the final annual enrollment in the state's public school system (grades K-12) for the nine-month school year. Final annual enrollment is a cumulative total of students enrolled throughout the school year and is not adjusted to reflect withdrawals. Included in these figures are those students who transferred to the public school system from another state or from another North Carolina school district, as well as non-public school students entering the public schools. The kindergarten program was phased in from school year 1973-74 to school year 1976-77. The first month average daily membership represents the sum of the "number of days in membership" of all students for the first month of the school year divided by the number of school days in that month. In both series, the state figure represents the sum of county data.

Community College Enrollment

The fall quarter headcount enrollment in curriculum and extension courses in the state community college system is shown by enrollee's county of residence. The statewide total is a summation of county amounts and excludes enrollees from out-of-state.

NC Department of Community Colleges

Higher Education Enrollment

The number of in-state undergraduate students enrolled during the fall term in North Carolina public and private institutions of higher learning is shown by home county of the student. This series by home county allows for comparisons among counties with respect to the county's contribution to higher education enrollment in the state. Enrollment refers to the headcount resident-credit enrollment. The resident-credit enrollment includes full-time and part-time students enrolled in courses basic to or creditable to a bachelor's or higher degree. This excludes students in extension, correspondence, adult education, audited courses, short courses, and those enrolled for individual lessons only. Undergraduate includes students who have not completed a full four-year program or its equivalent and students in a five-year bachelor's program. Data for the Profile classification include students in private junior colleges but exclude the public community colleges. In-state students are those whose legal residence, as determined by the institution, is North Carolina. Data were excluded for students in military centers for all years, for Southeastern Seminary for all years except 1973, for Roanoke Bible College in 1978 and prior years, for Meredith and Shaw in 1973, for Davidson College prior to 1975, for Duke University prior to 1978. The state total enrollment includes students who did not report a home county.

Property Tax

This figure represents the total amount of property taxes levied by all local jurisdictions in the county for the fiscal year. The tax is levied on all real and personal property. Personal property includes machinery and equipment, business inventories, and household property. There are certain exemptions and exclusions. Preferential treatment is given for business inventories and certain agriculture products. Property taxes are collected by the county and by the component jurisdictions - cities, school districts, and other special districts. In the Rankings section, the per capita property tax 1983-84 is ranked from high to low.

HEALTH

Primary Care Physicians

For purpose of this publication, primary care physicians are defined as physicians involved in active general practices, family practices, internal medicine, pediatrics, obstetrics and gynecology. The doctors included in this count are non-federal, non-resident practicing physicians licensed by the N.C. Board of Medical Examiners in September. The data are tallied by the county of the doctor's business address and by home county if the business address is not known. The state total includes primary care physicians whose county of residence and county of practice are unknown. The specialty OB-GYN includes obstetrics, gynecology, and obstetrics/gynecology. Only the last of these three is considered a primary care practice. In the Rankings section, the number of active primary care physicians per 10,000 population is ranked from high to low.

The county total excludes beds provided for mental disease, alcoholism addiction, mental retardation, and pulmonary diseases. County totals also exclude state supported hospitals except for North Carolina Memorial Hospital in Orange County, which serves the general public in that area. Excluded are registrations for trailers, buses, motorcycles, dealers, transporters, driveaway and public-owned passenger vehicles, trucks and trailers. The statewide total is a summation of county amounts. The method used to produce the auto and truck registration estimates which have appeared in previous editions of the Profiles could not be used after North Carolina began the staggered registration system in 1980.

A reportable accident is one which involves a motor vehicle on a trafficway resulting in injury, death, or property damage of $500 or more. The property damage amount was $100 until July 1, 1971 and $200 until October 1, 1983. The number of persons injured or killed is determined from the investigating officers' reports which are filed within 24 hours of the accident. The state figure represents the sum of county totals. LABOR FORCE AND EMPLOYMENT

By Place of Residence

Labor force estimates represent the combined totals of the average annual employed and unemployed persons by place of residence and have been adjusted to remove the effect of multiple job holdings and commuting from one county (region/MSA) to another. Employment totals include agricultural employment, non-agricultural wage and salary employment, non-agricultural self-employed workers, unpaid family workers, and domestic workers in private households. The rate of unemployment is the ratio of the number of unemployed (not working, but seeking work) to the total number in the civilian labor force. The adjustment of commuters from the labor force total insures that the unemployment rates between areas are comparable and are influenced only by the severity of unemployment. The data through 1984 are based on 1970 Census commuting patterns through a residency adjustment. Beginning with 1985, the adjustments will be based on the 1980 Census commuting patterns. Figures for 1984 will be revised upon release of the 1985 data. State figures differ significantly from sums of counties due to adjustments made to state totals based on new 1980 benchmarks. These adjustments have not been made for all years at the county level. In the Rankings section, the rate of unemployment is ranked from high to low.

MONEY INCOME

Median Household

Median Family

Family income consists of total money income received in the calendar year by all family members 15 (14 in 1970) years old and over, tabulated for all families. Family income differs from household income by excluding income received by household members not related to the householder, persons living alone, and others in non-family households. Median family income figures are derived from the entire distribution of family incomes.

PERSONAL INCOME

Total Personal Income

Total personal income figures for the calendar year reflect the income received by or on behalf of all the residents of the area from all sources, that is, from participation in production, from transfer payments, from government and businesses, and from government interest. "Persons" consist of individuals, nonprofit institutions, private non-insured welfare funds, and private trust funds. Personal income is the sum of wage and salary disbursements, other labor income, proprietors' income (with inventory valuation and capital consumption adjustment), income of persons (with capital consumption adjustment), personal dividend income, personal interest income, and transfer payments, less personal contributions for social insurance. Income is reported in current dollars (i.e., no adjustment is made for inflation).

US Department of Commerce

Per Capita Income

Per capita income is calculated as total personal income divided by the mid-year resident population of the state. Per capita income estimates for planning regions were derived from estimates of total personal income and population of the component counties. With the release of updated per capita income estimates each April, BEA typically revises the most recent four years of data. In the Rankings section, per capita income for 1984 is ranked from high to low.

US Department of Commerce
Bureau of Economic Analysis

Transfer Payments

Transfer payments are income payments to persons, generally in monetary form, for which they do not render current services. The total includes payments by government and business to individuals and nonprofit institutions. Included are government payments to individual civilians, government payments to retired military, veterans and their dependents, payments to nonprofit institutions, and other business transfer payments. One of the largest components of payments to individual civilians is the retirement, disability and health insurance category. In the Rankings section, per capita transfer payments for 1984 are ranked from high to low.

Group Quarters

Group quarters are actual census counts as of April 1, 1970 and 1980 of persons in living arrangements, such as nursing homes or rooming houses, which are not households. Group quarters persons are either inmates of institutions or persons in other types of group quarters. An inmate of an institution is a person under care or custody at the time of enumeration. This category includes homes for the aged, correctional institutions, and mental hospitals. Persons living in group quarters who are not inmates of institutions include those living in rooming and boarding homes, communes, convents, monasteries, or other units in which 10 or more unrelated persons share housing. Persons living in certain types of living arrangements are classified as living in "other" group quarters regardless of the number or relationship of people. This category includes persons in military barracks, on ships, in college dormitories, sorority and fraternity houses, missions, etc.

US Department of Commerce
Bureau of the Census

Annual Migration Rate

These figures reflect the annual rate of net migration for the period July 1 of the previous year to July 1 of the reference year provided both are non-census years. Because each decennial census is conducted on April 1, migration rates for 1971, 1980, and 1981 reflect average annual rates for the periods April 1, 1970 to July 1, 1971; July 1, 1979 to April 1, 1980; and April 1, 1980 to July 1, 1981; respectively. The fact that each year's rate is annualized guarantees comparability between years, even for different time periods. In calculating average annual rates, it is assumed that population growth is compounded annually with the rates of natural increase and net migration being additive in any single year. In the Rankings section, the annual net migration rate for 1983 to 1984 is ranked from high to low.

Supplemental Security Income and Other

These figures represent the sum of the numbers of aged, disabled, or blind persons receiving income assistance for the fiscal year. The figures for the aged, disabled and blind are obtained by calculating the average number of persons receiving Supplemental Security Income (SSI) in December and June of the fiscal year (in each category respectively), and then adding the average number of persons receiving only state/county special assistance in these months. On January 1, 1974, the Supplemental Security Income program was implemented as a result of amendments to the Social Security Act as passed by Congress in 1972. The Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program replaced the former federal grants made to the various states for Aid to the Aged, Disabled, and Blind. In essence, SSI legislation held that the individual states would no longer administer these federal grants. Instead, the administration of financial payments was made the responsibility of the Social Security Administration. In order to prevent any persons from receiving less money under the new program, the states were required to provide supplementary payments to make up any deficits between the old amount and the new amount for all persons on the rolls on or after January 1, 1974. North Carolina's supplementary program, called State/County Special Assistance, was set up for the dual purpose of complying with federal legislation and compensating for the failure of the federal program to make provisions for the special needs of the aged and disabled, specifically domiciliary care, chore services, needy spouses/essential persons, and certain disabled persons not covered by SSI. In fiscal year 1977-78 only the December 1977 SSI report was used because June 1978 was not available; and in fiscal year 1975-76, the January 1976 and June 1976 State/County Special Assistance reports were used because December 1975 was not available. For the months of June 1981 and June 1983, unpublished printouts were used instead of the usual SSI publication.

Camden

Camden County was formed in 1777 from Pasquotank County. Located in the northeast section of the state, it is bounded by the state of Virginia, Albemarle Sound, and Pasquotank, Gates, and Currituck counties. It was named for Sir Charles Pratt, Earl of Camden (1716-94), English jurist and political leader who opposed taxation of the American colonies and believed the Stamp Act to be unconstitutional.

Craven

Craven County was formed in 1705 as Archdale Precinct of Bath County, although there is evidence that an Archdale County existed as early as 1696. The name was changed to Craven County about 1712. Located in the east section of the state, it is bounded by Carteret, Jones, Lenoir, Pitt, Beaufort, and Pamlico counties. It has been said that the county was named for William, Earl of Craven (1606-97), one of the original Lords Proprietors and longest lived of the eight. More likely, however, it was named for his grandnephew, William, Lord Craven (who inherited his title and interest in Carolina, and who died the year before the name of the county was changed from Archdale to Craven), or for the third William, Lord Craven, one of the Proprietors at the time the change in the name of the county was made.

Cumberland

Cumberland County was formed in 1784 from Bladen County. Located in the southeast section of the state, it is bounded by Sampson, Bladen, Robeson, Hoke, Harnett and Moore counties. It was named for William Augustus, Duke of Cumberland (1721-65), second son of George II, who was commander of English troops at the Battle of Culloden in 1746 in which Scottish Highlanders were defeated. His extreme severity earned him the nickname of "The Butcher". It is ironic that the county named for him should have been settled by Scottish Highlanders.

Martin

Martin County was formed in 1774 from Halifax and Tyrrell counties. Located in the east section of the state, it is bounded by Washington, Beaufort, Pitt, Edgecombe, Halifax, and Bertie counties. It was named for Josiah Martin (1737-86), last royal governor of North Carolina, and very likely would have been changed as were some other counties named for late royal governors except for the popularity of Alexander Martin, governor in 1782-85 and 1789-92.

Incorporated Municipalities: Bear Grass, Everetts, Gold Point, Hamilton, Hassell, Jamesville, Oak City, Parmele, Robersonville, Williamston

Mitchell

Mitchell County was formed in 1961 from Yancey, Watauga, Caldwell, Burke, and McDowell counties. Located in the west section of the state, it is bounded by the state of Tennessee and by Avery, McDowell, and Yancey counties. It was named for Elisha Mitchell (1793-1857), professor at the University of North Carolina who was killed while exploring the peak which now bears his name—the highest point east of the Mississippi.

Orange

Orange County was formed in 1752 from Johnston, Bladen, and Granville counties. Located in the central section of the state, it is bounded by Durham, Chatham, Alamance, Caswell, and Person counties. It has long been said that the county was named for William III (1650-1702) of the House of Orange, who ruled England from 1689 to 1702. However, in 1752 when the county was formed, the infant William V (1749-1806) of Orange was Stadholder, and his mother, Anne, daughter of George II of England, controlled affairs of state. It seems reasonable to assume that Orange County was named in honor of William V of Orange (and perhaps also to flatter his grandfather, George II of England) instead of for William III who had been dead for fifty years.

Incorporated Municipalities: Carrboro, Chapel Hill (part), Hillsborough, Mebane (part)

Surry

Surry County was formed in 1771 from Rowan County. Located in the north central section of the state, it is bounded by the state of Virginia, and by Stokes, Yadkin, Wilkes, and Alleghany counties. Long said to have been named for "Lord Surry" or the "Earl of Surry," but this title and others was held then by the Duke of Norfolk, Edward Howard (1686-1777), who used his ranking title of Norfolk. The county actually was named for the County of Surry in England, birthplace of incumbent governor William Tryon. The fact that the name is similar to Saura, the Indian tribe which had recently inhabited the region, may have had some influence in the choice.

Incorporated Municipalities: Dobson, Ekin (part), Mount Airy, Pilot Mountain

Union

Union County was formed in 1842 from Anson and Mecklenburg counties. Located in the south central section of the state, it is bounded by the state of South Carolina, and by Mecklenburg, Cabarrus, Stanly, and Anson counties. At the time the county was formed there was a dispute between local Whigs and Democrats as to whether it should be named Clay or Jackson. The name Union was suggested and adopted as a compromise and because the new county was created from parts of two others.

Metropolitan Area Definition

In 1983, the Federal Office of Management and Budget released revisions to Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA) boundaries. The revisions were the result of reconsideration of the SMSA boundaries using population data from the 1980 Census of Population and Housing. Certain terminology changes were also made. The previously used term, Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area, was shortened to Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA).

The general concept of a Metropolitan Statistical Area is that of a geographic area consisting of a large population nucleus together with adjacent communities having a high degree of economic and social integration with that nucleus. Standard metropolitan definitions were first developed and issued about 35 years ago. Their major purpose is to enable all Federal statistical agencies to use the same geographic definitions in the study of metropolitan characteristics. Data are made available for individual metropolitan areas on population, housing, industry, trade, employment, payrolls, local housing markets, and labor markets.

Metropolitan Statistical Areas are defined according to a set of detailed standards prepared by a federal committee. Under these standards (revised in 1980), an area qualifies for recognition as an MSA in one of two ways: If there is a city of at least 50,000 population, or an urbanized area of at least 50,000 with a total metropolitan population of at least 100,000. MSA's are defined in terms of entire counties, except in the six New England States where they are defined in terms of cities and towns. In addition to the county containing the main city, an MSA may also include additional counties having strong economic and social ties to the central county.

The number of Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSA's) in North Carolina was reduced by the federal budget office from eleven in 1980 to nine in 1983. The Charlotte-Gastonia MSA was expanded to include two former MSA's, Salisbury-Concord and Rock Hill (South Carolina), plus Lincoln County. In addition to the Charlotte-Gastonia change, Currituck County was deleted from the Norfolk-Virginia Beach-Newport News, VA MSA, which is now the Norfolk-Virginia Beach-Newport News, VA MSA. Also Brunswick County was deleted from the Wilmington MSA, and Madison County was removed from the Asheville MSA. Besides Lincoln and York County (SC), other new metropolitan counties in 1983 were Davie, Burke, and Franklin.
